Re: Mark Wisniewski vs. Kenosha Unified School District
Kenosha County Case No. 2024-CV-335

Dear Judge Gagliardi:

As you know, I represent the Plaintiff, Mark Wisniewski, in the above-referenced lawsuit. At yesterday's hearing concerning Plaintiff's motion requesting temporary injunctive relief, you'll recall I moved the Court for an Order finding Intervenor, Kevin Mathewson, in contempt of court for his intentional conduct that violated this Court's Order arising from the May 31, 2024, hearing in this case (Dkt. 34).

Following a brief colloquy between the Court and Mr. Mathewson, the Court found Mr. Mathewson in contempt. Following further discussions with the parties, I agreed to withdraw my contempt motion on the condition that the article Mr. Mathewson published on June 20, 2024, be removed from his website by 5:00 p.m. CST yesterday. Your Honor subsequently instructed me to prepare and circulate a proposed stipulation and order for all parties to sign. Your Honor further reiterated that all other orders in this case, including that from the May 31, 2024, hearing, remained in full force and effect while this lawsuit is pending.

Upon return to my office, I prepared a proposed stipulation and order memorializing the above. I have enclosed a copy of those documents for your review. As you'll note, I included specific language whereby the parties would expressly agree "not to publish, distribute, or otherwise disseminate information related to any investigation or allegations that are in any way relevant to the above-captioned action until further specific Order from the Court." Given Mr. Mathewson's recent conduct necessitating my motion for contempt, I felt such an express agreement was appropriate to ensure future compliance with this Court's Orders, particularly that from the May 31, 2024, hearing. I further requested Mr. Mathewson to remove from his social media pages any links to the article that he published on June 20, 2024, in the spirit of yesterday's hearing, as I became aware of such posts on the Kenosha County Eye's Facebook and Twitter pages after yesterday's hearing had concluded.

Mr. Mathewson informed me yesterday evening that he believed the language contained in my proposed stipulation and order “appear[ed] too broad,” and most recently offered the enclosed, red-lined revisions to the drafts. As you’ll note, the material revisions Mr. Mathewson proposed were that (1) he only be required to remove the June 20, 2024, article from his Kenosha County Eye website, and not his other internet platforms; and (2) that Petitioner and KUSD be prohibited from disseminating information related to the investigation or allegations relevant to this matter, while he only be required to not disseminate the information he wrongfully obtained from one of the other implicated governmental agencies in this matter. He claimed to be disadvantaged because he does not know the contents of the at-issue KUSD materials, and therefore suggested that he could not agree to avoid disseminating its contents. I have also enclosed the exchange of emails between the parties.

Approximately one hour after I received Mr. Mathewson’s email last night, an article was published on Mr. Mathewson’s Kenosha County Eye website regarding yesterday’s hearing. A copy of that article is enclosed for your review. Despite Your Honor’s decision to close yesterday’s hearing to the public, this article disseminated much of the information discussed at yesterday’s hearing, including referencing the at-issue article that Mr. Mathewson voluntarily agreed to remove at yesterday’s hearing.

Given these further developments, I am compelled to renew my motion for contempt against Mr. Mathewson. As Your Honor indicated at yesterday’s hearing, the cat is now out of the bag because of Mr. Mathewson’s contemptuous conduct. It is especially clear from this most recent article that Mr. Mathewson lacks all due respect for this Court and will continue to conduct himself in a manner meant to intentionally frustrate the authority, process, and orders of this Court. As remedial sanctions, Plaintiff requests the enclosed article that was published on June 27, 2024, be removed from all internet platforms, including but not limited to, any related post on social media accounts, an Order compelling payment of Mr. Wisniewski’s attorney’s fees in relation to his recent motions for temporary injunctive relief and contempt, payment of damages sufficient to compensate Mr. Wisniewski for the irreparable harm caused to him by Mr. Mathewson’s contempt, and any further sanction that Your Honor deems equitable and just.

Should Your Honor have any questions related to this matter, please feel free to have your judicial assistant contact me. Thank you.

Sincerely,

CHRISTOPHER R. VANDEVENTER

Chris,

What happened today was an anomaly and you shouldn't expect it in your career very often. You misrepresented the outgoing judge's oral ruling intentionally to bolster your motion for a TRO. I ordered the transcript and will be able to prove that. You didn't "win" today, other than the fees you are collecting from your client. I have removed the post from Facebook and from Twitter, as to not give the judge a chance at retribution. Please see:

For A Safer Kenosha County, Vote Heather Iverson For Judge on April 2: Opinion - Kenosha County Eye

This is an op ed I published, and the judge later chastised me in person citing this op ed was the reason he lost. This is why you semi-prevailed today.

He took his retribution on me. What you did with the court order is sometimes referred to as "sharp practice" and isn't allowed under your rules of professional conduct. The OLR will be considering this after I ultimately prevail in this case.

Being such a young attorney and so unethical is alarming. When you have bad facts on your side, sometimes you lose. You can't win them all, including this one.

With all that being said, this stipulation appears too broad. I'm at a disadvantage. I don't know what's in the file, so how can I agree to not disseminate any of the contents therein? How about specifically referencing Kenosha Police Department Investigation 2024-36884?

I've attached a revision of each for your review.

Kevin

Attorney Hummel and Mr. Mathewson,

Attached is the proposed stipulation and order I've put together following today's hearing. Please sign and date your respective signature lines on the stipulation and return to me. In the alternative, you can provide me with written confirmation that I have your permission to affix your electronic signature to the stipulation and I will do so. Once all signatures are collected, I will file both documents with the Court.

In the spirit of today's hearing, I would ask you, Mr. Mathewson, to also remove any post containing a link to this article from any of your social media pages as well. While I understand the link may now effectively lead to nowhere (I appreciate you agreeing to remove the article while this action is pending), the social media posts still contain the article's headline and my client's photograph. I am currently aware of posts on your publication's Facebook and Twitter pages. Please confirm once this has been completed.

Thank you both.

Outgoing Judge Holds Kenosha County Eye Editor In Contempt Of Court – Orders Article Removed From Website

- KCE Staff

Outgoing Kenosha Circuit Court Judge Frank Gagliardi

Kenosha County Eye Editor Kevin Mathewson was held in contempt of court today – at least for a few minutes. Outgoing Kenosha County Circuit Court Judge Frank Gagliardi did what no Kenosha County Judge has ever done – he ordered KCE to take down an article we published. It wasn't done directly, however. In a secretly held, closed hearing, (which in itself is illegal – a member of the press and another individual were denied entry to the courtroom Gagliardi first held Mathewson in contempt of court for what Gagliardi said was a violation of a court order. (There was no violation.) This was for a case that Mathewson isn't even a party to. Gagliardi, without the authority under Wisconsin Statute, or the United States Constitution, seemingly extorted Mathewson into agreeing to remove the article until the conclusion of the case in late August. Gagliardi knew that any contempt finding would be ignoramus, and vacated it. KCE cannot tell its readers which case it is, due to a gag order, but you will see a recent article has recently vanished from our site.

Gagliardi seemed to suggest the if Mathewson didn't agree to remove the article temporarily, he would fine Mathewson thousands of dollars. Mathewson reluctantly agreed, even knowing the judge had no idea what his authority is in this matter.

KCE published the article citing a police report publicly obtained via the Wisconsin Public Records Statute §§ 19.31, like we have done hundreds of times. A lawyer in this case accused Mathewson of obtaining the report in a deceptive manner.

In an email dated June 21, 2024, a Kenosha Police spokesman wrote to Mathewson, "We treat all requests, except for requests from law firms, law enforcement agencies, etc., as citizen requests. Your request was treated as a citizen request under WI Stats. 19.31, as are all of your requests."

Mathewson shared this email with the attorney in this case who seemingly concealed it from the judge. KCE published an op ed on our site on March 30, 2024 suggesting that voters choose Gagliardi's challenger, who easily defeated him.

"I can't believe that Judge Gagliardi would hold a grudge to the point where he would violate my first amendment rights to free speech and free press with the threat of being held in contempt and being fined thousands of dollars," said Mathewson. "I realize that this unconstitutional order will expire in August and the article will be reposted, but I would never imagine that a judge would order a media outlet to take down a factual story based on the word of an attorney who was engaging in 'sharp practice.'"

Kenosha County Circuit Court Judge David Wilk

Ironically, today in a separate matter, a different Kenosha County Circuit Court Judge ruled that Kenosha County Eye is indeed a bona fide media outlet when our status as such was questioned. Judge David Wilk ruled that Kenosha County Eye is entitled to reporter privilege, meaning that generally, KCE doesn't have to give up confidential sources of news. That means tipsters who call, text, email or talk to us can feel good about being kept anonymous.

"The first amendment took a huge blow today in court. Thankfully, however, the Tony Evers' appointee, Judge Gagliardi, will no longer be a judge in about a month. For those who thought the first amendment was untouchable might just be wrong, at least in Frank's courtroom," said Mathewson. "When this case is settled, KCE will disclose all of the illegal, unethical and unconstitutional actions taken by Gagliardi. Until then, we hope Frank will allow us to continue to disseminate the news to Kenosha. But its a scary day when an appointed judge uses a grudge to eviscerate the constitution."

Yes! Mark Wisniewski Tremper English teacher. Obviously Mark's lawyer didn't like that story coming out b/c it's bad for his character, but Kevin only posted FACTS from the police report. It's ridiculous that this lady finally has the courage to hold this man accountable, it's published in the news and then forced to be taken down? Why? So that when this drunk loser gets out of jail he can do it to another unsuspecting victim?

Let's also talk about the way Mark responded to this lady... I'm sorry I didn't know I had such an impact on you. How the f is she supposed to feel after you sexually assaulted her?!

For those that didn't get to read the article this is a very brief summary: Mark is an alcoholic who is currently serving a sentence in KCJ for his 3rd OWI. When Mark is drunk it's evident that he becomes delusional in thinking he can do what he wants with women. He became friends with a woman he frequented the bar with and she would often get Mark home and sleep over (on the couch). He would try to make advances at her but be turned down every time. One night he convinced her to sleep in his bed with him b/c it would be so much more comfortable and she has reported her sexually assaulted her. She did not report this to police right away but has since received professional help and has a "list" of which he is on. When she reached out to Mark he played dumb like he didn't know what happened (maybe he was black out drunk; however, still not acceptable). Told her things like I'm sorry I didn't know I made this big of an impact on you, I didn't know I made you feel that way blah blah blah.

The legal concept, from what I can glean, is called "prior restraint." It is a serious constitutional issue.

Art. I, Sec. 3 of the Wisconsin Constitution reads: "Every person may freely speak, write and publish his sentiments on all subjects, being responsible for the abuse of that right, and no laws shall be passed to restrain or abridge the liberty of speech or of the press."

This is actually broader than the First Amendment which only refers to governmental action to restrain freedom of expression. But the Wisconsin Constitution is explicit that the right to speak, write and public is maintained but, unlike the First Amendment, says the person speaking, writing or publishing is "responsible for the abuse of that right." In essence, you cannot be restrained in advance from speaking, writing or publishing something but can later be punished for the abuse of that right. The Wisconsin Constitution frowns on prior restraint.

None of us here knows all of the facts behind this or what prompted the judge to take what appears to be extraordinary actions. But we know they are extraordinary and to assess the judge's conduct we need to see the entire picture.

Well, the Supreme Court just threw out a lower court ruling that placed major restrictions on the ability of government officials to communicate with social media companies about their content moderation policies (they can go back to telling Facebook, etc to take down posts they don't like or agree with).
This isn't any different. This is huge and the Country cannot sustain much longer.

Last week KCE published a story about a Kenosha govt Facebook page deleting comments they didn't like. In response, a person said "It's Facebook—who cares?" THIS is exactly why everyone should care: first the govt deletes your Facebook comment, then they don't allow you to speak at public meetings, then they demand you delete a factual news story. Freedom of speech is eroded in small steps.
